Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin and Universidad de La Habana are glad to host the 21st edition of the International Summer School in Economics and Management in Havana.

ISSEM 2024 offers you a wide selection of study courses in different areas of economics and business, such as: Cuban Economics, Labor Market, Development Economics, International Accounting, Design Thinking and Entrepreneurship.

Courses are exclusively taught in English. Undergraduate and graduate students receive ECTS points for successfully completed courses. But the ISSEM experience goes beyond the classroom. We invite you to attend organized cultural events and activities, such as a Cuban movie night, concerts, sport competitions and excursions.

Students have the possibility to present recent research (i.e. BA/MA Thesis) during a special session of the International Conference in Economics and Management, which takes place during the two weeks.

Participants need to cover their own flight and accommodation. A modest fee for visa and social activities will be charged.

Apply now! We hope to see you in Havana.
